"New Route to Texture, Flavor, or Color Control of Product Uses 'Tailored' Proteins", pp 35-36*

"New Research Exposes 'Bonus' Effects of Versatile Wetting Agent", p 37

VOLUME 1 — NUMBER 2 April - May 1967

"American Dietary Habits: Some Implications to Future Products", Rice, Eldon E., pp 21-24, 58-59

"The Humility of Product Development", Morse, Roy E., pp 25-26, 55-56

"Packaging — Take One Giant Step Backward", Stone, F. Michael, pp 28-32

"Adapt Dairy-Based Products to Changing Consumer Patterns", Beck, Karl M., pp 34-35

"Why Do New Products Fail?", Angell, Bee, pp 36, 45

"Glucose Determination Techniques Changed by Versatile Enzyme Reagent", pp 37, 50, 60*

"White Cottonseed Flour: a New, Low Cost, Protein Source", pp 38-40*

"Colorimetric Measurement of Dried Food Wafers — Reproducible and Rapid", Berardi, L.C., W. H. Martinez, G. J. Boudreaux and V. L. Frampton, pp 42-45*

"Attributes of Sensory Perception", Ellis, Barbara Hall, pp 57-58

VOLUME 1 — NUMBER 3 June - July 1967

"A. C. Nielson Study Exposes Marketing Faults in Product Introduction", p 10

" 'Nutty' Innovations Possible from New, Smooth Almond Paste", McCormick, Richard D., pp 18-19*

"Convenience Foods and Our Changing Social Patterns", Clausi, A.S., pp 21-23, 46-49

"Consumer Measurement and Attitude Scales: Some Recent Developments", Twedt, Dik, pp 24-26, 50-51

"Eliminate Product Failure by Pretesting", Angell, Bee, pp 28-29, 46

"Where Do We Go from Go?", Stone, F. Michael, pp 33-34, 46

"Torula: Nutritional and Functional Characteristics", Pinkos, John A., pp 35-36

"Increased Design Freedom Ahead with New Plastics", Powers, John, pp 37-39

"Status Report: Salmonella", Lennington, Kenneth R., pp 40, 44, 49

"Salmonella and the Food Industry", Foster, E.M., pp 42-44

VOLUME 1 — NUMBER 4 August - September 1967

"Interrelationship of Chemical Structure to Odor", Katz, Morris H., pp 19-22*

"Will Fabricated Foods Revolutionize Mealtime?", Peterson, Harris-Clichy, pp 26-28, 54

"Newest Packaging Regulations — Protection or Standardization?", Stone, F. Michael, pp 29, 40

"A Working Guide to Prescreen New Product Ideas", Pinkos, John A., pp 32-33

"GLC Identification/Quantification for all 20 Natural Amino Acids", Eeck, Karl M., pp 38-39

"Let's Re-examine Nisin for Convenience Foods", Heinemann, Burdet, pp 42-45

"Sensory Evaluation: a Tool in Product Development", Ellis, *Barbara, pp 48, 53-54

"Versatile Fractions from Milk Offer Unlimited Product Potential", pp 50-51

VOLUME 1 — NUMBER 5 October - November 1967

"Protein Complexing a Possible Basis for Sweet, Bitter Taste Sensations", p 10

"Efficient Use of Sensory Evaluation Methods", Ellis, Barbara Hall, pp 18-22, 32*

"Chemical Structure & Odor: Aromatic Cyclic Compounds", Katz, Morris H., pp 23-28, 31-32*

"Color Measurement of Foods: I. the Nature of Light", Francis, F.J. and F. M. Clydesdale, pp 28B-31

"Venture Group Approach to New Products", Bates, Barstow, pp 34-39

"Electrohydraulics — Potential Applications to Processed Foods", Allen, Merton. pp 42-44, 50

"New Product Development for the Small Manufacturer", Bouthilet, Robert J., pp 46-50

"Premeasured Enzyme for Bakery Doughs Portion Packaged in Edible Film", p 53

VOLUME 1 — NUMBER 6 December - January 1968

"Identity Proposals for Vegetable Protein Herald Future Control of Fabricated Entrees", p 10

"Snacks — Ubiquitous and Profitable", pp 20-23

"Color Measurement of Foods: II. the Nature of Color", Francis, F.J. and F. M. Clydesdale, pp 24-26

"The Financial Function in Product Development", Cavalier, Philip A., pp 28-30
